CPS News

Art-in-Nature Awards — Prizes were won by Maria Kaiser for slides, and Sue Telecky for prints. Both received books titled "I Love Nature Art Forms."

Non-Serious Competition — This competition, which was held on April 9th, featured several unusual categories. The funniest print came from Mary Kruger, and Paul Kruger contributed the funniest slide. The Krugers together provided the "most unusual" print. The "biggest mistake" slide was submitted by Doug Kerner, and Maria Kaiser won the category in prints. The Grand Award for slides went to Bob Burns, while Chris Morrow's "Cosmos" took the Grand Award for prints.

Refrigerator Update — Jim Stropko has again come to CPS' rescue to remove a second refrigerator this year. He not only has to get the big, ungainly, heavy box down the stairs and onto a truck, but must also remove the refrigerator without spilling any into the atmosphere. May the current fridge last for years!

Competition Chairs Set for 94/95 Year — CPS President, Maria Kaiser has nominated, and the Board of Trustees (at the May 19th meeting) approved the following:

- Pictorial Slides — Lori Fundak 1/334-1889
Doug Kerner 521-3453
- Pictorial Prints — Tom Litzler 356-2312
- Nature Prints and Slides — Ruth Morrison 961-8817
Bill Gance
- Creative and People — Jerry Penca 932-6227

We note that Leroy Dierker has resigned the Pictorial Print Chair after many years of faithful service. His casually-added comments to the judges' critiques were always as generous as they were insightful. ☒
